APPEAL TAKEN TO HIGHEST COURT

Tinsley Case Settles Ten Others.
All the Defendants Give Bond
in Sum of $5,000. Pending
Appeal to United States Supreme Court.

United States Senior Circuit Judge Nathan Goff yesterday afternoon, after hearing lengthy argument on the petition of James G. Tinsley, one of the indicted fertilizer men, for a writ of habeas corpus and discharge from custody, where he had been placed by the decree of Judge Waddill, of the United States District Court, rendered a decision dismissing the petition and remanding the petitioner to the custody of the United States Marshal to be transferred to the Middle District of Tennessee, there to be tried under an indictment found by a United States court grand jury.

The decision was rendered at 12:30 P. M., and immediately counsel for the defendant, Tinsley, and all the defendants in the famous case of the United States of America against the Virginia-Carolina Chemical Company and others, gave notice of an appeal to the Supreme Court of the United States.

Judge Goff gave counsel until 4 o'clock to prepare and present the papers in the case for the government, and the government, in number, were ready to submit to arrest and have their cases take the same course as Tinsley's.

They were accordingly arrested by United States Marshal Morgan Trent on warrants issued by Judge Waddill, and in the afternoon, when Judge Goff again occupied the bench, the formal proceedings of the moving the cases up to the highest court in the land were gone through with and thus, for the first time, the Sherman anti-trust law of 1890 and all the other anti-trust legislation of Congress will be squarely before the Supreme Court of the United States of America, for a decision as to their constitutionality.

Judge Goff took his seat at 9 o'clock yesterday morning, and immediately Mr. E. T. Sanford, special assistant attorney general of the United States, took the floor to reply to Mr. Vertrees, of Tennessee, who had spoken for the petitioner the afternoon before.

Mr. Sanford's argument was brief, but pointed and brilliant, and this closed the case for the government. Mr. Vertrees, replying, closed the case for the petitioner.

NEW YORK, July 14.—The marriage of Mrs. Leslie Carter and William Louis Payne astounded theatrical folk and the intimate friends of the couple when the facts were made public this morning.

David Belasco, Mrs. Carter's manager and tutor, was prostrated. Considerable mystery surrounds the hasty preparations for the wedding, and the fact that the marriage took place on the day that when the full story is told it will be found to contain even more of interest for Mrs. Carter had known the actor only a few days.

After briefly attesting to the truth of the marriage, Mr. Belasco said that he had been brought in to the wedding, and that he had seen Mrs. Carter, who had been up in his working studio and refused to be seen. Mr. Belasco is upset because the marriage of his star may overthrow the fulfillment of plans of many years.

He and Mrs. Carter have risen to the heights of fame together. The author-manager has for months been at work upon what he believes will prove to be his greatest drama. Mrs. Carter has worked over it with him, and has given much time to studying her role.

Now all these finally worked out plans may be upset. Mr. Payne is under contract with Charles Frohman, a member of the theatrical syndicate, and the marriage of his star may overthrow the fulfillment of plans of many years.

TROUBLE BREWING FOR MANY YEARS

Looks Like General Clash of

can Republics—United Bloodshed.

(By Associated Press.)
PANAMA, July 14.—A telegram received here from San Salvador says that Honduras declared war against Guatemala to-day. According to this same message the following proclamation has been circulated in Salvador:

"General Bonilla, commanding the Salvadoran army, has repelled the Guatemalan forces at Metapan, in Salvador, ten miles east of the Guatemalan frontier. The victorious army of Salvador retained the positions captured from the enemy."

Looks Like General War.

The declaration of war by Honduras upon Guatemala brings a third State actively into the Central American trouble, which has been progressing with more or less severe fighting and bloodshed for a month or more. Honduras and Salvador are now arrayed against their neighbors on the West, Nicaragua and Costa Rica are the only two countries still passive, and it has been said that the former is about to take part in the fighting.

Up to to-day Honduras had seemingly taken no part in the dispute between her neighbors. Recent reports, however, declared her territory had been invaded by Guatemalan troops in pursuit of fugitives from the army of General Regalado, the Salvadoran commander, who was killed in the fighting at Jicaro.

Brewing Long Time.

The present trouble in Central America has been brewing for a long time. For the past five years the revolutionists have been planning, intriguing and preparing for the overthrow of President Cabrera, and in their efforts to this end they have not failed to appeal for support to certain elements in Honduras and Salvador, working on the national jealousies for first place among the seven States forming Central America. President Cabrera has been harshly criticized by his enemies. They declare he rules with extreme despotism and that no man's life is safe under his administration, and the country, morally and economically, is going to the dogs under his unwise and ill-advised course.

On the other hand, President Cabrera has declared that this revolutionary movement is inconsequential, and that the government would promptly put it down. President Cabrera's term of office, in fact, expired in 1905. He has insisted, however, on holding office.

WASHINGTON, D. C., July 14.—The State Department has no information concerning the declaration of war by Honduras against Guatemala, but no surprise in manifested, as the frontier of Honduras is in the disturbed district. That no advance have been received on the subject is not surprising, as the United States representative to the country also represents Guatemala, and lives in the latter country.

While the United States has consular offices in Honduras, they have declined a desire to accept the mediation offered. The mediation might take the form of a joint arbitration tribunal representing Mexico and the United States, to which Guatemala and Salvador, to which Guatemala and Salvador might act through a peace commission composed of representatives from their two governments.

No reply has as yet been made to the offer. The State Department yesterday through the state department under instructions from President Roosevelt. The official announcement of this action was made here to-day.

THE RIVER AT LAST GIVES UP BODY OF YOUNG J. W. GORDON; BURIAL OF MISS SATTERFIELD

Accompanying cuts were made from photographs of Mr. John W. Gordon, Jr., and of the scene on the river, where he and Miss Satterfield met their death Thursday night.

Tireless Searchers Re- warded After Forty- Eight Hours Labor.

WAS FLOATING IN MIDDLE OF STREAM

With Face in Repose Miss Satterfield Was Found Early Yesterday Morning—Funeral Took Place in Afternoon—Long and Anxious Search.

The river has at last given up its dead. The body of Mr. John W. Gordon, Jr., was found at 11 o'clock last night, and that of Miss Rose M. Satterfield early yesterday morning.

After the recovery of Miss Satterfield's remains efforts were redoubled to bring those of Mr. Gordon to the surface. But it was not until last night that two tireless searchers, Willie Young, of No. 107 Denny Street, and John Thompson, No. 17 Denny Street, Fulton, were successful. They were coming slowly along the Richmond bank about one-quarter of a mile below the rock quarry, the point opposite which the tragedy occurred Thursday night, when the light of their "reflector" fell upon the corpse floating down stream, right shoulder and head exposed.

Not far away were their companions, Clarence Parker, 108 Orleans Street, and Robert McCauley, 5818 Second Street, Fulton, and these came at once to their call. The four men quickly lifted the lifeless form into one of the boats, and as rapidly as possible rowed back to the city. The body was tied at the city wharf, and the body remained there until the funeral director removed it to his rooms to prepare it for burial.

Colonel Gordon spent the night at home last night, and will not be notified of the finding of his son until this morning. Mr. Dabney Carr represented the family among the searchers on the river last night.

First to the Surface.

The body of Miss Satterfield was recovered yesterday morning at 5:55 o'clock by Watchers Bob McCauley and Cloyd Young, who had all night long been patrolling the river in a small row boat. It is singular that the discovery was made nearly a mile below the point where all those who were present at the time of the accident said it occurred.

Ever since Friday morning at daybreak, a small fleet of boats had been dragging the river near the stone quarry wharf, opposite jetty No. 23, but it was opposite jetty No. 56, a mile below, that Miss Satterfield's body was found.

It is explained by the river men that it would have been impossible for the body to have floated the distance without discovery, especially as the tide had not long gone out. They say that there is a light on shore at jetty No. 56, just as there is at the stone quarry wharf, and that those in the launch mistook the lights. When the body was first seen, it was half out of the water, head up. The Old Dominion steamship Brandon, on her way to Richmond, passed it shortly before 6 o'clock and notified those on the tug "Thomas Cunningham, Jr." that the body was floating in the channel at jetty No. 56. Several row boats at once pulled down.

THREAT TO KILL HARTJE WITNESS

Woman Who Testified for De-

Town at Once.

GUARDED BY DETECTIVES

PITTSBURG, PA., July 14.—It was learned to-night that threatening letters have been written to witnesses for Mrs. Hartje. As a result, Mrs. Alexander W. Slocum, who is said to be Mrs. Hartje's closest woman friend, is closely attended by a physician and is also guarded by two private detectives.

Early in the Hartje case Mrs. Slocum was called to the stand to testify as to Mrs. Hartje's habits and character, but since her testimony she had been Mrs. Hartje's constant attendant.

To-day Mrs. Slocum received a letter commanding her to leave Pittsburgh, retract her testimony given in favor of Mrs. Hartje, or she would be shot.

Hearing Postponed.

Postponement until Wednesday, July 25th, was the result of the hearing of the charges of conspiracy against Augustus Hartje, his friend, John L. Welshons, and Clifford Hooe, a negro and former coachman, who is in jail awaiting trial on the charges of perjury brought against him in connection with the divorce case.

The charges of conspiracy against these three were taken up by Assistant District Attorney Robb last week, and the hearing was set for to-day.

Hartje and Welshons appeared before the aldermen with the Hartje counsel, Ferguson, Rogers and Marron, but Mr. Robb did not appear. He had asked by telephone that a postponement be granted, but the Hartje counsel protested, and Mr. Robb appeared post-haste. He explained to the aldermen that when Hooe's case was put over by Judge Byrns, it was understood that all cases growing out of the Hartje case would be taken up after decision in the divorce case. The Hartje counsel protested and threatened legal proceedings to force the hearing, but Alderman King granted the postponement.

Fellow Workman Said They Tied Him to Machine as "Joke."

(By Associated Press.)
NEW YORK, July 14.—Frank Getzner, a workman employed at the Windsor Plaster Mills, at New Brighton, Staten Island, was run through a stone crusher last night and his body was ground to bits. When to-day eight of Getzner's fellow workmen were arrested, charged with causing their companion's death, they said that, as a joke, they tied him while asleep, and that when the machine started unexpectedly the man's body was pulled through the crusher. Fragments of bone and pieces of clothing were found among ground stone under one of the crushers. The police do not accept the prisoners' explanation of Getzner's death.

SLAUGHTER OF WHOLE FAMILY

Awful Murder of Isaac Lyerly, Wife and Children.

FIENDS SLAY THEM WITH AXE

Two Little Girls Sleeping in an Upper Story Alone Escape the Axe of Intruders—Robbery Their Purpose.
Posse in Pursuit.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
SALISBURY, N. C., July 14.—The family of Isaac Lyerly, a prominent farmer, at Barber Junction, Rowan county, was practically exterminated by murderers at midnight last night.

The dead are: Isaac Lyerly, aged sixty-eight; Mrs. Isaac Lyerly, aged forty; John Lyerly, a son, aged ten; Alice Lyerly, a daughter, aged six. Two daughters of the first named, Mary and Addie, aged fourteen and nine, respectively, who were sleeping in a room on the second floor of the home, escaped the murderers' axe, thereby.

Suspected of being guilty of the horrible crime, five colored tenants on the Lyerly farm have been arrested and jailed in Salisbury. Their names are Mitchell Graham and wife, Jack Dillingham and wife, John Jordan. All protest innocence, but the circumstantial evidence against the entire crowd is strong.

An Awful Scene.

The Lyerly family, residing one mile west of Barber, retired at the usual hour last night. Shortly after midnight, Mrs. Mary Lyerly detected smoke in her room on the upper floor, and she, with her young sister, Addie, descended the stairs to ascertain the trouble. The deadly scene that met their gaze as they entered their parents' room beggars description. On one bed lay the father and brother, cold in death, their foreheads having been crushed by a heavy blow from an axe.

In another part of the same room lay the lifeless form of the mother of the household, her skull likewise crushed with an axe. On the same bed, Alice, aged six, with her brains oozing out of a deadly wound made by the same weapon.

Bed Set Afire.

Added to the horror of the tragedy, the flames which the bodies of Mrs. Lyerly and her son lay, were found to be on fire, the bedding having been saturated with oil and fired by the murderers in an effort to burn the dwelling in order to hide their crime.

Both bodies were badly burned before the flames were extinguished by the two girls, who fought bravely to save the lifeless remains of their loved ones.

All of the bodies were dragged by the girls to a place of safety and the unconscious form of Alice, the baby, shouldered by her eldest sister Mary, was carried a mile through the darkness to the home of a neighbor, where death followed.

The alarm was given and a summons sent to Sheriff Julian, of Salisbury, who left immediately with a posse of fifty officers for the scene of the tragedy, the blackest in the history of this part of North Carolina.

Suspicion soon fastened upon the tenants on the farm, who had threatened the life of Mr. Lyerly because he harvested the wheat crop neglected by them.

Feeling runs extremely high here, though there is little prospect of a lynching. A Governor Glenn has instructed the sheriff to call out the Rowan rifles in the event of trouble.

Governor Takes Action.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
RALEIGH, N. C., July 14.—Orders were issued from the Governor's office to-day for the sending of soldiers from the penitentiary to track the murderers of the Lyerly family, but it was found that the institution had only two, these being young and untrained as yet. Besides, they are at this time on the Halifax county, where the darkness, unable to provide the bounds, a proclamation was promptly issued from the Governor's office offering $350 reward for the arrest of the murderers.

The Crime Fixed.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
CHLOTTE, N. C., July 14.—Sheriff Julian, of Rowan county, to-night brought to this city for safe-keeping, Nell Gillespie, his son, John Gillespie; Jack Dillingham and wife, George Ervin and Henry Lee, negroes charged with the murder of Isaac Lyerly, his wife and two children, near Barber Junction, last night. There was nothing to indicate a lynching at Salisbury, but the sheriff thought best to move the prisoners. The coroner's jury to-night fastened the crime upon all the prisoners.
